Dear [Company] hiring team,

Full-stack is home base for me. The most recent thing I shipped was a full SaaS, end to end and on my own: a Next.js front end, a Convex backend, Stripe billing, a member dashboard, and an AI content pipeline. It's live with real users today.

My stack is TypeScript, Next.js, Convex, and Stripe, with real-time data and clean APIs. I come from a security background, so auth and data privacy go in on day one instead of getting patched in later.

For [Company]'s [Role], I can own a feature from the interface all the way down to the system behind it. I move fast, I document while I build, and I test before anything ships.

I'd be glad to show you the work on a quick call.

Best,

Drey (Andre Thomas)
