I take an idea and ship the whole thing — front end, backend, voice layer, billing, deploy. Usually solo, usually on Claude Code. I move fast, document while I build, and test my own work before anyone sees it.

WHAT I BUILD

- ▶ AI phone & voice assistants that answer real lines, book, and remember callers
- ▶ Agentic automation — self-running systems that pull, process, and act without a human in the loop
- ▶ Full-stack SaaS, end to end: dashboards, Stripe billing, auth, real-time data
- ▶ AI clones & chatbots trained on a person’s or company’s own voice
- ▶ Internal tools & admin dashboards that stitch scattered systems into one view

STACK

---

- ▶ TypeScript, Next.js, Convex, Stripe, Vapi
- ▶ Clean APIs and real-time data underneath
- ▶ Security background — auth and data privacy go in on day one, not as a patch

HOW I WORK

- ▶ Own it end to end, from the interface down to the system behind it
- ▶ Document while I build, so it keeps running whether I’m in the room or not
- ▶ Test before it ships — I check my own work before the customer sees it
